An M. D. Tells "Experience With Osteopathy"

GEORGE B. KLINE, M. D., of Meacham, W. Va., a brother of L. C. Kline, D. O., of Tarentum, Pa., has the following experience with Osteopathy, reported in the December issue of "The Medical World," of Philadelphia. It will be interesting to our practitioners and especially the comment of the editors in conclusion, who "print it for what it may be worth," and advise M. D.'s suffering from hard times to try the newer methods.

Editor Medical World:—I notice in November World an advertisement, "Osteopathy for the Physician." Osteopathy is a good thing when properly used; but for any one to expect to learn anything worth while from a book is expecting too much.

Some time ago one of my brothers went to Iowa and fell in with the osteopaths and graduated from their college. He located in Pennsylvania and sent me literature among which was a book illustrating and describing the treatments. Now, I thought I would learn something about this treatment. I had the books a year. I could not get anything out of them.

I then went and spent three months with this brother, under his tutelage. He put me right to work. Then only did I begin to see the light. An osteopath is a high grade mechanic of the human system; and the treatment consists primarily in movements to readjust structures and remove obstructions to the free and full normal activity of the various structures—nerves, blood vessels, glands, etc. The object is, to let Nature work without hindrance or friction.

I am a "regular," class of '87. I finished the study of Osteopathy during 1905, and nearly all my practice now consists of chronic cases who have tried from one to more than a dozen regulars. I am not exaggerating when I say that 80 percent of them get well in a few months.

I enclose a few case reports. No medicine used in any of them. I have failed in but one uncomplicated case of constipation, and failed to cure one case of chronic partial paralysis after three attacks of what was called cerebrospinal meningitis. I can report scores of cases with results equal to these seventeen enclosed.

Anything consisting of action must be seen to be appreciated. One not familiar with football, baseball, etc., would not get much benefit from illustrated positions and descriptions; thus no one can get much out of osteopathy without seeing the modus operandi.—Geo. B. Kline, M. D., McMechen, W. Va.

A few cases treated by Dr. Geo. B. Kline, McMechen, W. Va.:
1. A boy 12 months old, weight 14 pounds, sick all his life. Alimentary canal trouble; vomiting continuously, could not sit up. I gave him seven treatments. He vomited but once after the first treatment. In 5 months he weighed 26 pounds and was running about. (This was my first case after returning home in 1905.)
2. Mr. E., age 37; hemorrhage from bowels for three years; two months' treatment cured him, after fourteen physicians had failed.
3. Mrs. C.; cough, with pain in right lung, for seven years. Cured in two treatments.
4. Mrs. C.; sciatica; could not turn in bed; had been bedfast most of the previous winter. Gave two months' treatment; cured.
5. Mr. M.; swelling in neck side of hickory nut; painful for a month; 20 minutes' treatment cured.
6. A girl, age 11; hip joint disease; said to be tuberculous; scrofulous; excruciating; had gone on crutches 2 years; 3 months' treatment put her on extended sole shoe.
7. Mr. J.; constipation; heart trouble; worked but half time; constant headache; age 30. Gave sixteen treatments; missed no work after first treatment; cured.

8. Mr. D., age 40; railroad engineer; was in two weeks, right shoulder stove. After walking around two months with his arm helpless at his side and told by the railroad surgeons that he never would be able to follow his occupation, six treatments put him back to work.

9. Mr. W., age 40; railroad engineer. Hemorrhage from kidney seven years previously; had consulted physicians for 100 miles around, and the best result promised was that an operation was necessary; had been taking medicines regularly. Cured in three treatments.

10. Rev. A.; preacher's sore throat. Cured in one month.

11. Mrs. S. G.; rheumatism in feet. Cured in two months, after a half dozen physicians failed.

12. Mrs. T.; weak and sore back for eight years; improved from the first treatment; considered herself well with eight treatments.

13. Mrs. S.; lame back for 25 years, with constant headache. Cured in two months.

14. Mrs. M.; neuralgia and headache from wind blowing a back of neck. Cured in one month.

15. Mr. B., age 45; ailing for three years; gradually losing weight, lost all ambition. In one month had gained 8 pounds and quit treatments in two months.

16. Mr. S.; double sciatica; relief at once.

17. Mr. B.; diarrhoea twenty-four hours; cured at once.

18. Another Osteopath reports one hundred cases of typhoid fever cured without the loss of a single patient. These doctors are all honorable men, who stand high in their profession. So there is no doubt about it, or the Medical World would not publish it. To those who are familiar with the work done at the

Dr. A. T. Still Osteopath Infirmary, of El Paso, Texas. Dr. Ira W. Collins, Physician in Chief.

The above will create no surprise, but those who are not can see how easy it was for them to cure six thousand cases with the loss of only one to every thousand patients. For their success is just like other thorough Osteopaths from the school at Kirksville, Mo.

When medical doctors who have practiced like Dr. Kline for 18 years, and then take up Osteopathy and make such a success of it, and certify to how superior it is to medicine, it is no surprise that there are four thousand less students in medical schools and that the Osteopathic school at Kirksville has the largest in its history. For Osteopathy is the only way to cure diseases of every kind, and you cannot cure a disease by whipping up the poor tired nerves by poisoning a man, and that is why Dr. Shoemaker says ten die from the effect of the drug where one dies from the disease, and why the best hospitals in the cities use no drugs, and only foods and baths and osteopathy, for as Dr. Mayo, the great surgeon, says, they have tried all the drugs and found them a failure, and that no one ought to spend two hours studying materia medica, as it is a dead profession. Feel your own spine, the trouble is always there, for the entire circulation of blood is governed from the spine, and the Bible says: "The life of all flesh is in the blood," and they are the words of God himself, and this truth will live forever.

Mining News of the Great Southwest

THE CALUMET AND ARIZONA CO.'S OPERATIONS

New York Brokers Make Report on Property in Warren District.

Thompson, Towle & Co., members of the New York stock exchange, make the following report on the Calumet and Arizona Mining company, of Bisbee: The officers are: Chas. Briggs, president; Geo. H. Hoatson, vice president; L. W. Powell, vice president and general manager; G. R. Campbell, secretary; Peter Ruppe, treasurer. Directors, Chas. Briggs, Peter Ruppe, Geo. H. Hoatson, Thos. F. Cole, Thos. Hoatson, Geo. E. Tener, L. W. Powell, C. A. Congdon, G. R. Campbell, Chas. d'Arment, Jr. The capitalization is: Authorized, 250,000 shares, par $10, $2,500,000; outstanding, 200,000 shares, par $10, $2,000,000.

Location and Holdings. The Calumet and Arizona Mining company's property consists of 160 acres, located about two miles south of Bisbee, Ariz., and also the mammoth group of 35 claims, situated in Pinal county, Ariz. The company has under option 450 acres of well located ground in the new camp of Courtland, Ariz., about 25 miles northeast of Bisbee.

Calumet and Arizona, Bisbee, Ariz. This property adjoins the Copper Queen mine, and constitutes the company's most important producer. The ores, which are direct smelting, assaying about 6 percent copper, occur in the limestone.

In addition to the rich oxidized ores, the property contains large quantities of low grade sulphides, averaging 3 percent copper. These ores are not being worked at the present time, but undoubtedly will be treated eventually. The property is developed by two shafts, the Irish Mag, 1270 feet deep, and the Oliver, which has attained a depth of approximately 160 feet. A new shaft, the Hope and Wagner, is now being sunk.

The Calumet and Arizona property is worked in conjunction with the Superior and Pittsburgh, and the ores are mixed in such proportions as to make a self-fluxing material. The property at present is producing about 2,300,000 pounds of copper per month.

Courtland Property. The developments at this property, located in the heart of the new camp of Courtland, are very encouraging, and from present appearances the mine should become a valuable asset of the Calumet and Arizona company. This property has been rapidly developed by three main shafts and a large amount of drifting. The ores are of a smelting character, said to assay approximately 7 percent. The average thickness of the deposit is 20 feet. Owing to the occurrence of these ores in blanket formation they should be mined cheaply, and considering the grade, copper should be produced at a low figure.

Mammoth Group. This property is developed by two shafts, 400 feet deep, and shows good concentrating material, assaying 2.5 percent copper. Work has been suspended at one shaft, while the other is being sunk to the 600 foot level.

Smelter. The Calumet and Arizona Mining company's smelter is located at Douglas, 25 miles southeast of the mine. The El Paso & Southwestern railway, over which the company hauls its ore, freight rate, connects the mine with the reduction plant.

The smelter has a capacity of from 2000 to 2200 tons per day. The ores of the Superior and Pittsburgh Copper company are treated at the plant, together with those of the Calumet and Arizona. The plant does not do a custom business.

Production 1905 to 1909. Pounds fine copper produced—1905, 31,772,856; 1906, 37,579,284; 1907, 30,658,448; 1908, 28,048,329. Value of gold and silver—1905, $178,843; 1906, $238,464; 1907, $210,846; 1908, $234,358. Tons of ore smelted—1905, 262,952; 1906, 215,671; 1907, 232,460; 1908, 265,244. Pounds copper per ton—1904, 179.

1907, 131; 1908, 105. Percent copper recovered per ton—1905, 7.82; 1906, 8.95; 1907, 6.56; 1908, 8.27.

Monthly Production, 1909.

	Pounds.
January	2,361,522
February	2,372,967
March	4,492,188
April	2,329,604
May	2,449,593
June	2,285,496
July	2,171,955
August	2,140,000
September	2,250,000
October	2,250,000
November	2,314,000

Report for Year Ending Dec. 31, 1909. During the year the production amounted to 28,048,329 pounds of refined copper and $234,358 in gold and silver values. The average price received for copper during the year was 12.948 cents per pound. The cost of producing copper, including construction, was 5.63 cents per pound. During the year the tonnage treated was increased by approximately 39,000 wet tons. The percentage of copper recovered during the year fell off to 105 pounds from 131 pounds, the figure for the preceding year.

The management states: "We still hold options upon claims, amounting in all to $530,000, payments of which are spread over the next 12 months. Demand loans will be called in to meet these payments."

The amount expended in developing lands under option in 1909 was $274,721.06, and for payments on options, $99,990, a total of $274,621.06."

Reserves. The company's annual report makes no estimate of the ore reserves. This is not surprising, when one considers the formation. The ore bodies here are generally very soft and oxidized, occurring in the limestone, and owing to the difficulty of preventing caving, little ore is being blocked out ahead of actual consumption.

Dividends. The Calumet and Arizona Mining company has paid to date the following dividends:

	Total.	Share.
1903	$ 400,000	$ 2.00
1904	1,300,000	6.50
1905	1,700,000	8.50
1906	2,000,000	10.00
1907	3,300,000	16.50
1908	800,000	4.00
March 1909	200,000	1.00
June 1909	200,000	1.00
September, 1909	200,000	1.00
December, 1909	200,000	1.00

Total dividends...$10,900,000 $54.50

Costs. During the past few years there has been a continued increase in the tonnage treated and a steady decrease in the copper contents of the ore. These figures are to be seen in the above table. Costs have increased materially; a few years ago the property was producing copper at from 5 to 6 cents per pound, while for 1908 it was 8.53 cents. We understand, from the most reliable sources available, that copper is being produced at the present time at a cost of 9 cents per pound.

Estimated Earnings and Earnings per Share.

Assuming a production of 27,000,000 lbs. of copper per annum and a cost of 9 cents per lb., we have the following earnings and earnings per share at the various copper metal markets:

Annual production—27,000,000 pounds. Cost per pound (estimated)—9 cents. Copper at 13 cents a pound—Earnings, $1,620,000; earnings per share, $5.40.

Copper at 14 cents a pound—Earnings, $1,550,000; earnings per share, $5.15.

Copper at 15 cents a pound—Earnings, $1,620,000; earnings per share, $5.40.

EL PASOAN IS IN RUSH FOR GOLD

Son of Thomas S. Parker Hurries to Rich Idaho Camp.

Thomas S. Parker, a mining man of this city, has received a letter from his son in Idaho, stating that he was on his way to the wonderful Jarbridge gold discovery. Two men were in El Paso recently, on their way to Chihuahua, who had come from Idaho, and they stated that the Jarbridge is the greatest gold discovery in the United States.

Nothing but the deep snow covering that country prevents a wild stampede.

OROGRADE MINES ARE BEING WORKED

Three Bear Company Plans Further Development. Eureka Consolidates.

Orogrande, N. M., Jan. 29.—W. F. Brice, one of the leading stockholders of the Three Bear Mining company, of this district, who has been in the camp the past ten days, left for his home in Philadelphia last evening. Mr. Brice was here in the interest of the company looking over the property, consulting with the manager, Mr. Davis, and making plans for future development work.

Drifting Work. Culver & Downs are now drifting from the 300 foot level on the Alice. This drift is already in about 200 feet, the purpose being to cut a big dyke just ahead. This firm has also been steadily at work on the Gem and has cut a good ore body at about the 200 foot level.

Baker & Company are now doing some work on the Mamie which they purchased some time ago from Joe Nocker. This is a gold property, some very high values having been taken from it.

The First National company is having some placer work done on its property, just below the big reservoir.

Eureka Consolidates. The Eureka Mines company, Consolidated, is the latest Orogrande company. This is a reorganization of the old Eureka company and a consolidation of properties. The company is officered by the following:

President, William F. Watson, Boston, Mass.; vice president, L. W. Crozier, Brookline, Mass.; second vice president, John S. Lamphrey, Boston, Mass.; third vice president, Geo. H. Bradford, Boston, Mass.; treasurer, Warren W. C. Spencer, M. D., Brookline, Mass.; secretary, Wallace C. Sprague, Boston, Mass. The board of directors include: William F. Watson, L. W. Crozier, John S. Lamphrey, Geo. H. Bradford, Warren W. C. Spencer, Joseph Ellwell, Dr. Geo. C. Haine, Geo. E. Moffett, of Orogrande, is named as local engineer and mining superintendent and Prof. Fayette A. Jones, of Albuquerque, N. M., as consulting engineer.

John H. Moffett, of Kingston, N. M., spent several days in the camp recently looking over a mining property.

COCHISE COMPANIES TO RESUME WORK

Tombstone Consolidated Is Unwatering Mine—To Sink Shaft.

Bisbee, Ariz., Jan. 29.—It is expected that the Cochise Gold and Silver company and the Tombstone Silver and Copper company will shortly resume work on their properties, situated in this county.

New ground is being tested and worked at the Hershall mine, while developments are being made at the Tombstone Consolidated mines. This company was obliged some time ago to start work for reducing the level of flood, which did not allow further development of the mine. The Tombstone Consolidated is going to sink a shaft on the northern part of its property, and at present is running its stamp mill at full capacity.

According to reports the mining property of Messrs. Winters and Vanderman, located in this county, will be developed on extensive basis. The ore bodies already extracted are said to carry minerals of high value.

James Watson, a miner of great experience, has just come from the Patagonia district. He said that conditions are very bright there and that a number of miners who own claims are developing their properties, making from time to time shipments of valuable ores to the smelters.

WORK CONTINUES AT THE TIN MINE

General Manager Affirms Report of Rich Strike Recently.

W. E. Kich, general manager of the Mt. Franklin tin mine, in speaking of the development of the property, says:

"Number 2 shaft, west drift, is in ore as usual, but the vein pinched only 16 to 18 inches. East drift has nice 7 percent, but we have stopped working it until the mill is ready."

"San Juan shaft, east drift breast is all in ore; the west end and a 20 inch vein of ore. Two weeks ago we cut through a deposit of ore 30 feet long, which assayed 30 percent tin, over the whole width of the drift. We have not crossed it, and will not do so till the mill is ready."

"Santiago shaft, the east drift has a vein of good ore 15 inches wide. The west drift is all ore over the whole breast. We have struck quite a flow of water, and we are putting in a hoist to handle it, and intend to sink and see what there is to it."

"We have also struck water in an arroyo near camp."

"R. C. Canby has completed the drawings for the tin mill and the El Paso Bridge company has the steel building for it under consideration. J. C. Miller is superintending the property, and has a force of 50 miners at work."

DULUTH COMPANY HAS MANY MEN AT WORK IN OCAPO.

Chihuahua, Mex., Jan. 29.—The Sierra Consolidated Mines company, of Duluth, has 300 men employed in development work at Ocampo, Chih. The company has increased this force from 60 men in the past two months.

This company is the corporation capitalized at $5,000,000. United States currency, organized a few months ago by Thos. F. Cole and Jos. B. Cotton at Duluth.
